

NEW BIRD OWNER PICTORIAL

NEW BIRD OWNERS AND THEIR NEW BIRDS

She's a 5-month-old feathered, bundle of energy. She's curious about everything and scared of nothing.

— Edmund Chorazyczewski, Michigan

I named my guy Zeus because he looks at everyone as though he was the King of the Gods on top of Mount Olympus looking down his beautiful beak at the world he rules.

— Robin Desautels, New York

I raised these two Solomon girls myself. The girl sitting on my shoulder ended up with a bad case of constricted toe syndrome; a problem maybe one baby in 30 Eclectus chicks get. Only about half of her toes are normal. I named her Ginger Rogers because she can't dance with feet like that. My little Ginger is still as sweet and snugly as she was when this photo was taken.

— Susie Christian, CA

